Leicester - June 12th 1900

Mr. Worthington C. Ford,

My dear Sir -

I sent yesterday the box of Anti-Slavery documents, Newspaper cuttings, Memento's - that my Father formerly directed the packing of - in part - & since his death, have been gradually collected from his many papers - I have delayed sending - knowing that my Sister had a great desire to read the Correspondence Edition but I am going away soon - & do not like to feel so much that this special department of the Library — I think much to desire —

Very truly yours

Elizabeth G. Kay

has realized — remains unattended to — but the boy has gone without [M. Fulton's letters to Dr. Fulton] — to my great regret — My sister trembled not fear to their being sent yet — I feel they are the gem of the whole — possibly the only really valuable things — tho' the letters to Mr. Webb are of course on the same subjects — this time is a little more — which is soon coming in the Fulton letters — that I miss in the others —

I hope the boy will reach you quickly — Some time I hope Mr. Garrison will perform his promise & take me to see

MCB, v. 2, p. 1